Subject: Recommendation letter for Mr. Yorguin José Mantilla-Ramos

To Whom It May Concern,

Our student, Yorguin José Matilla-Ramos, is now one of our best young researchers with a strong background in computing, bioinformatics, computational biology, and programming.

During his time in our lab, Yorguin has developed research on the immune system of insects, programming with algorithmic tools on proteomic data, which has allowed us to prepare an international publication in a high-impact journal.

On the other hand Yorguin is an excellent student with an outstanding academic profile, and he is a great partner and colleague, and enjoys the appreciation of his group mates. I highly recommend Yorguin as an excellent applicant for your call, as he meets the required profile without any doubt. If you have any other questions or requirements, I will be pleased to answer them.

Sincerely yours,
